postgraduates to become STEM leaders

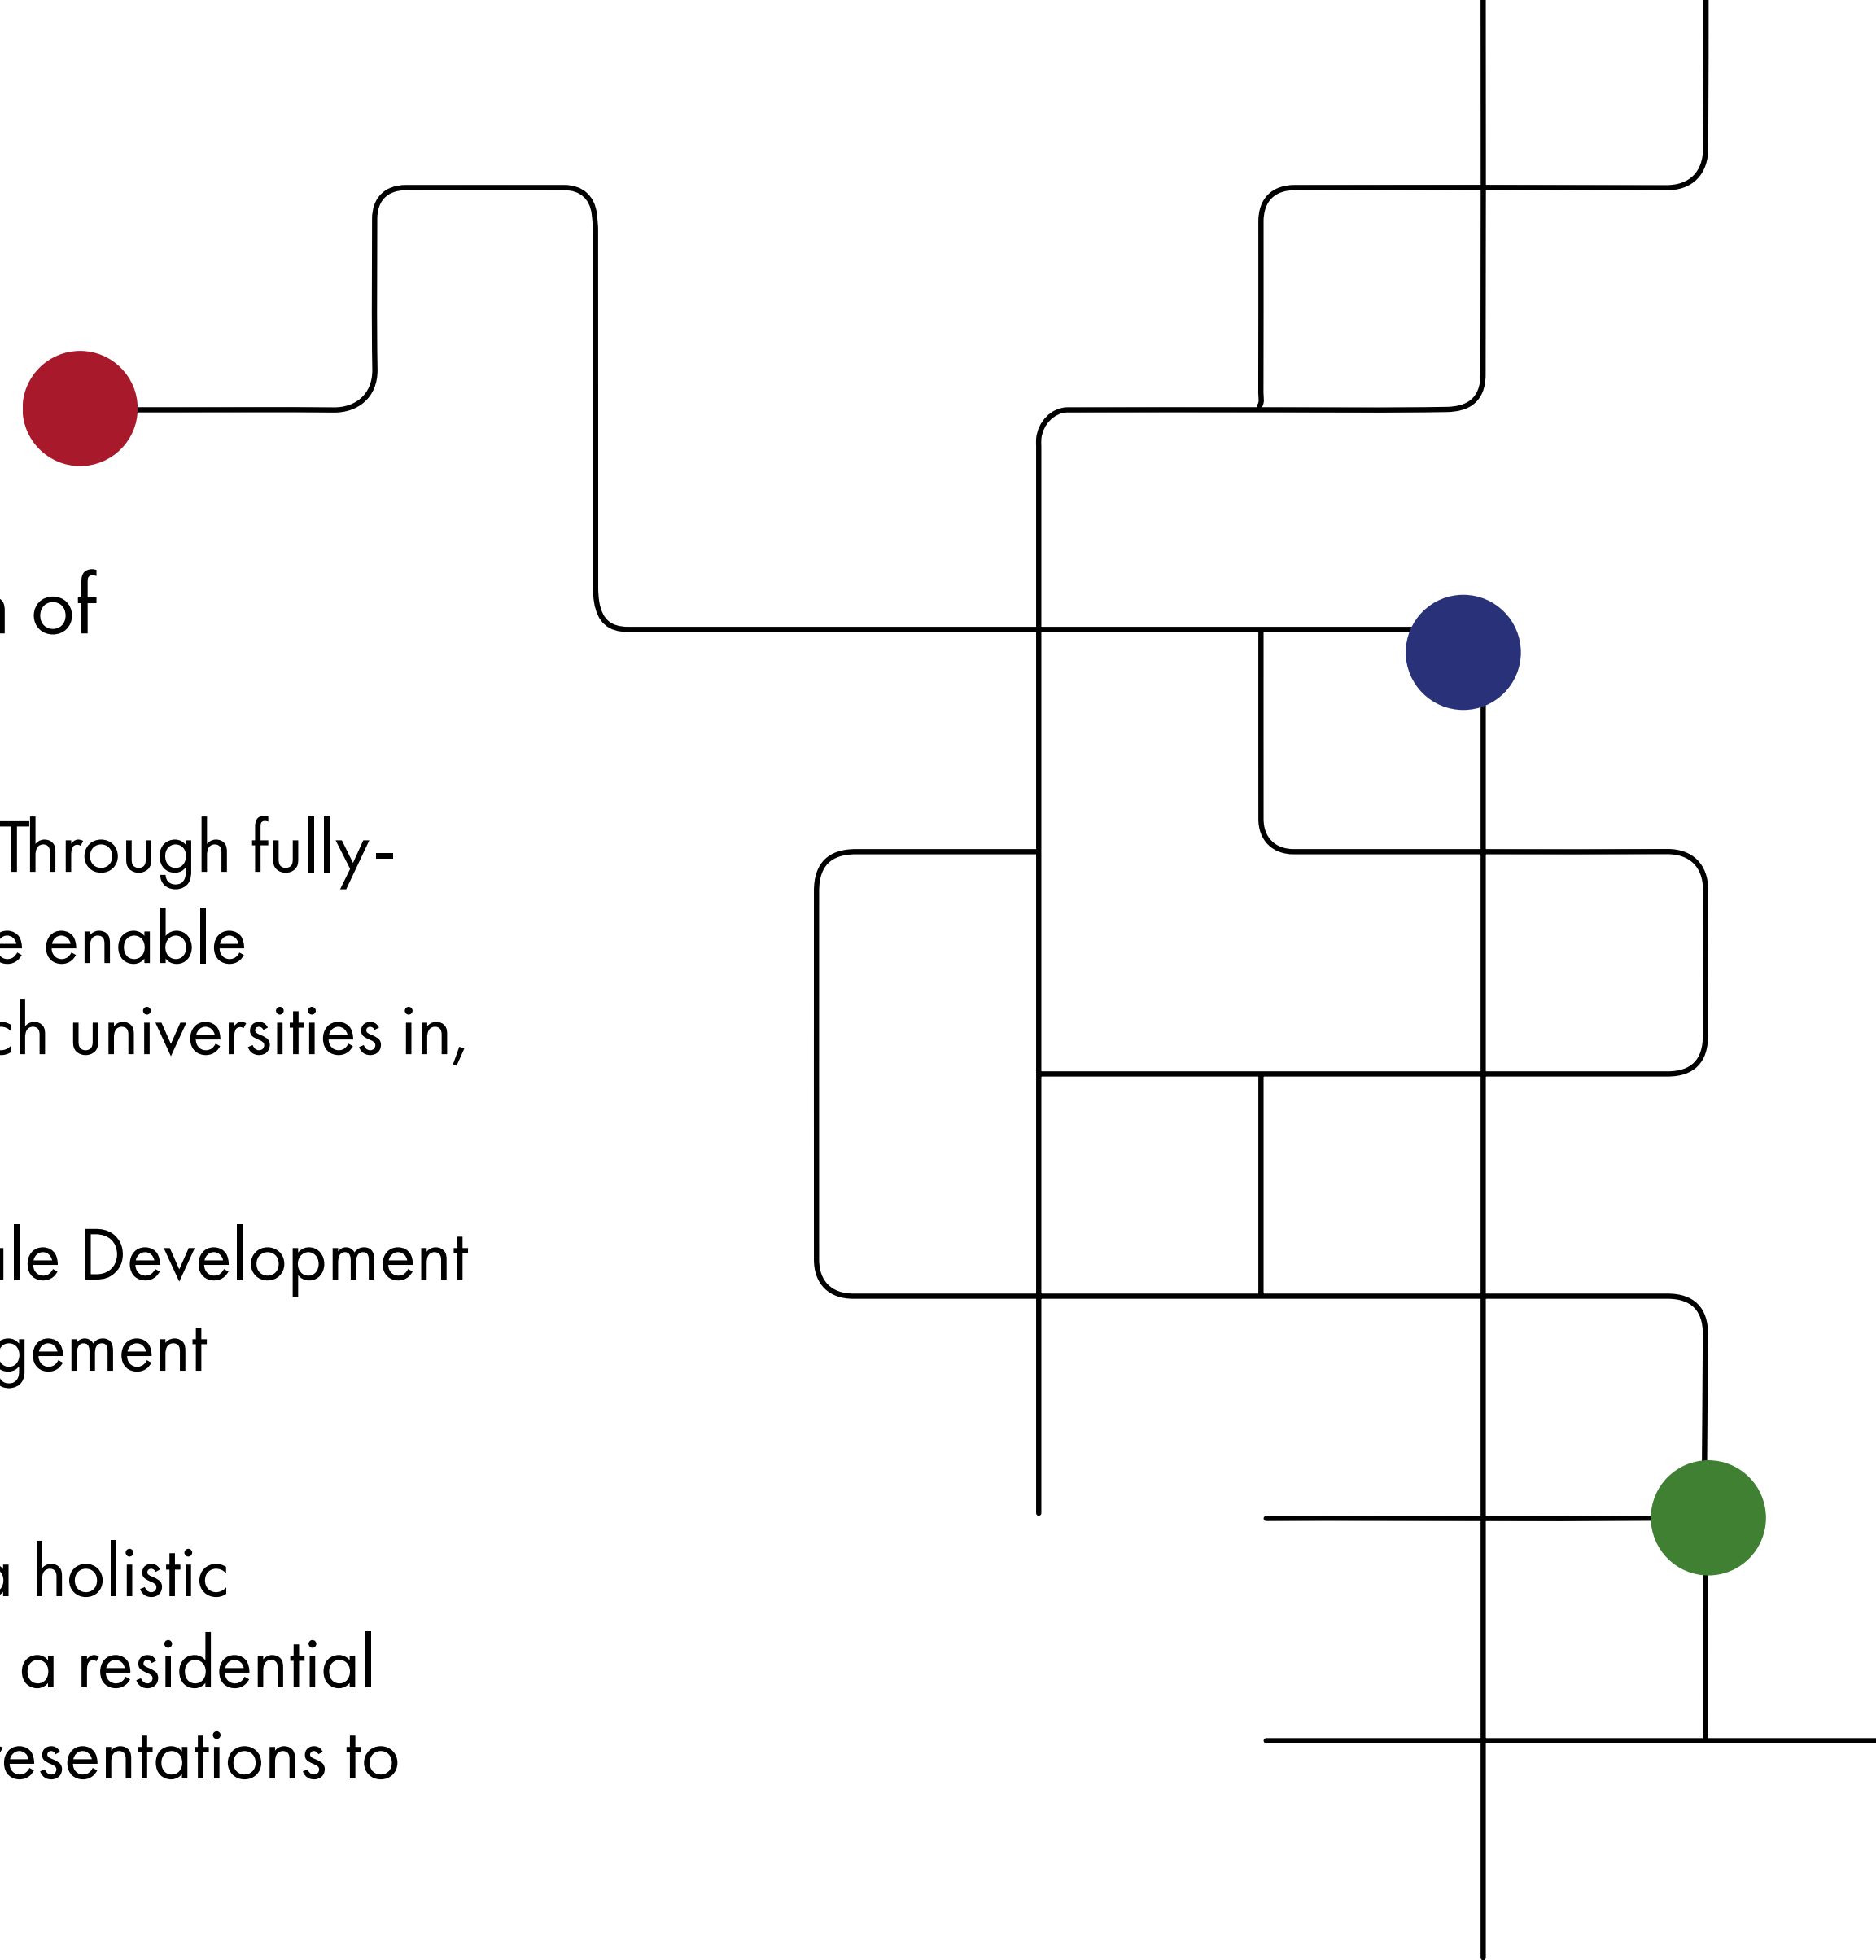

About Martingale

The Martingale Foundation funds and supports a new generation of postgraduates to become STEM leaders.

We believe family income should not be a barrier to postgraduate study. Through fully-funded scholarships and access to a community of pioneering leaders, we enable students to pursue postgraduate study in STEM subjects at leading research universities in, and thrive when they get there.

As a Martingale Scholar, you will have access to the multi-year Martingale Development Programme, including leadership training, career development and engagement opportunities.

'Compared to alternate scholarships, the Martingale scholarship struck me as a unique opportunity. Not only did they offer to fund my postgraduate education, which was something I found very daunting beforehand, but the promise of building a cohort of like minded scholars was not something I have seen anywhere before.'
